Geographic and Sector Agility Bolster Portfolio Balance and Resilience Against Market Challenges (1/2)

Singapore
CLI’s home ground continues to thrive on stability and positive market sentiment

- Continual recovery of Singapore tourism in 3Q 2023 boosted retail performance, particularly in downtown malls
- Supportive market dynamics in Grade A CBD office driven by both relatively limited office supply and ‘flight-to-quality’ demand
- Stable new economy performance with a stronger take-up of logistics space by diverse industries

China
Softer economic activity continues to weigh on real estate performance

- Retail rents still under pressure, though China economy recorded a 5.5% YoY increase in Sep retail sales of consumer goods
- Leasing activity and occupancy remain supported in certain sectors
- Focused on prioritising tenant retention through proactive lease management

- Continually improving physical occupancy for business parks
- Steady leasing momentum with ~1.6M sq ft of space renewed/newly leased in 3Q 2023

- Expanding into New Economy sector with acquisition of a Grade A logistics property in South Korea by COREF and a colocation data centre in the UK by CLAR
- Completed AEI in Gwangju Opo Logistics Centre, South Korea
- USA Multifamily portfolio achieved stable occupancy at 91% with ongoing AEI yielding strong double-digit return

3Q 2023 Business Updates

Conclusion
Market Outlook and Priorities

• Market environment to remain challenging with higher interest rates, greater volatility, and on-going geopolitical tension

• Continue to build recurring fee income through fund management, lodging management, and commercial management

• Focus on capital recycling and fundraising to ensure we are well positioned to seize growth opportunities

• Actively enhance diversification across geographies (beyond China and Singapore) and asset classes (e.g. healthcare, credit)
Prospects Statement

• The International Monetary Fund projects the global economy to remain broadly resilient, growing at 3.0% for 2023\(^1\). Notwithstanding, persistently higher interest rates, together with the potential for further rate hikes and geopolitical concerns in the Middle East are exerting pressure on the global economy and further dampening business sentiment.

• Against this macro economic backdrop, CLI expects ongoing challenges to continue in deal making, fundraising, and operational pressures, particularly in markets such as China, Australia, Europe, the UK and the US. The weakening of the operating environment in these markets also presents potential significant valuation risks. Nonetheless, CLI’s diversified exposure across geographies, particularly in stable markets such as Singapore should continue to bolster its resilience.

• CLI’s deep real estate expertise underpins its agility to capitalise on opportunities, including in asset classes such as data centers, logistics, self-storage, private credit, and healthcare. With a strong on-the-ground presence across Asia, it is also well-positioned to pursue higher-yielding strategies such as special situations and value-add. Given the challenging global environment for real estate, CLI is focused on capital recycling and fundraising to ensure it is well positioned to capture opportunities for quality growth.

• While exercising patience and prudence in its investment decisions, CLI remains committed to achieving S$100 billion in funds under management in 2024. CLI will proactively manage its capital requirements by diversifying funding sources and capitalising on favourable interest rates available across its markets.

• CLI is committed to achieving its sustainability goals in its 2030 Sustainability Master Plan. It maintained its 5-Star GRESB assessment rating for the eight consecutive year in 2023. It also successfully concluded its third CapitaLand Sustainability X Challenge, a global sustainability-focused innovation challenge that discovers and pilots new solutions for the built environment.
